Council bans smelly and dirty taxi cabs

CABBIES are being banned from using bad language, wearing vests or shorts, and letting their vehicles smell of body odour.

East Cambridgeshire District Council's new guide for taxi and private hire drivers includes a reminder for those with blind passengers: "When you talk to someone who uses a guide dog, speak directly to the person – not the dog."

The council tells drivers in Ely, Littleport and Soham to use "appropriate language, being careful not to offend", that "wearing shorts and vests will not be permitted" and they must be "smart, with a well-groomed appearance and of good personal hygiene". Cabs must also be clean and "odour free".

Antony Orchard, owner of 1st Call Taxi Service, believes the advice on personal appearance is useful.

He said: "Hopefully, it will smarten up taxi drivers in Ely. It is good advice, because you do see one or two drivers about who are not clean."

"All my drivers are always appropriately dressed in shirts and trousers."

Mr Orchard and his drivers have already been through a council course on taxi etiquette. He said: "It was all common sense, making sure you do not rush disabled passengers and not beeping outside people's houses – but you do still see some people do that."

The guide also covers the qualifications drivers need and tells drivers how to assist their passengers throughout their journey. Drivers must complete a knowledge test on routes and will be trained to understand the needs of disabled passengers.

Liz Knox, the council's head of environmental services and housing, said: "The aim of the guide is to be as transparent as possible so everyone knows what is expected of them as taxi operators, drivers and passengers."

"After speaking to taxi operators, it was clear that we needed to give them better clarity about what was expected from them, and this is what we have done."

Children box up Christmas spirit for less fortunate

SHOE boxes will bring a smile to the faces of children around the world after local youngsters showed their Christmas spirit.

Pupils at Sutton Primary School were taking part in Operation Christmas Child, which sees gift-filled shoe boxes sent out to children facing difficult times at Christmas.

Staff at the school sent out the message that help was needed, and pupils and parents responded with toys, toiletry, stationery and even the odd chocolate or sweet.

All 270 pupils at the school were involved, filling the shoe boxes last week before they were sent around the globe.

Music star goes back to class

NEW classical music star Natasha Marsh has rehearsed with children who will sing with her in a concert at Ely Cathedral.

Natasha, whose first album Amour topped the UK Classical Artist Chart earlier this year, met youngsters at Fordham Primary School who will take part in the concert on December 15.

The singer, who has toured with G4, Russell Watson and Il Divo, spent the afternoon with members of the 52-strong school choir aged between seven and 11, and even had a school lunch with them.

She said: "They were absolutely fantastic."

"It was great to work with such boundless enthusiasm and energy. I'm worried they're going to steal the show."

She talked to the pupils about her life as a singer and showed them some of her dresses as well as giving them some warm-up tips.

The Ely Cathedral concert is part of her cathedrals tour in the run-up to Christmas.

She said: "I can't wait to sing there. It's known as being one of the most beautiful cathedrals in the country."

Annie Freeman, the teacher in charge of the choir, said: "She was absolutely fabulous. She took a workshop with the children and did some choral techniques. She taught them extremely well and they loved it. It's an enormous opportunity for our children."

The school choir is due to sing Jingle Bells, Let it Snow and Away in a Manger as well as leading the audience in singing carols.

Give views on crime scene

THE PUBLIC can have their say on the best way to tackle crime.

The East Cambridgeshire Community Safety Partnership, which brings together councils, police and other organisations, wants to hear from residents.

Ste Thornley, acting head of corporate strategy, said: "We have decided what we think the priorities for the next three years should be, but we want to consult as widely as possible to ensure we will be working on the right things for East Cambridgeshire. We really want to hear people's views about these proposed priorities."

Woman faces assault case

A WOMAN has appeared in court on charges of assault and affray.

Sharon Boylan, 41, of Baker's Corner, Ely, admitted assaulting a police officer on November 5.

But she denied using threatening, abusive or insulting words or behaviour towards Tracie Lee on the same date.

She also denied assaulting Roberta Kish on the same date. The case was adjourned.

Sue Ryder may find new home at Brookfields

CHARITY Sue Ryder Care could move in to the Brookfields Hospital in Cambridge.

Bosses at the charity announced at the beginning of August its care home for people with severe brain and nerve conditions at the Old Palace in Ely was looking for a new home.

Now Cambridgeshire Primary Care Trust (PCT), which is consulting on the future of the Lord Byron and Frances Cornford wards in Davison House at Brookfields, has revealed that Sue Ryder Care is interested in moving into the building in Mill Road.

The PCT claims the hospital's current older people's services are under-used and no longer cost effective. It has said proposals to shut down the wards are not a cost-cutting measure, but it is estimated the move would free up £1.3 million to be reinvested annually in community care and make savings of £500,000 a year.

Bosses at the trust said relocation of Sue Ryder Care was just one of the options on the table and nothing had yet been decided.

Staff were informed of the suggestion last week.

Chris Banks, chief executive of Cambridgeshire PCT, said: "Following the

BY Rachel Extance

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

pre-consultation, Sue Ryder Care wrote to us in October expressing an interest in developing a neuro-rehabilitation inpatient facility on the Brookfields site.

"This would involve the relocation of their existing facility for people living with neurological conditions at the Old Palace, Ely.

"It would also provide for the first time the potential for Cambridgeshire residents who have survived brain injuries to have access to a local inpatient neuro-rehabilitation facility. Currently, the majority of such patients are treated out of the county, away from their homes and families."

Sue Ryder Care provides residential, day and respite care to people living with conditions such as Huntington's disease and multiple sclerosis at the Old Palace.

Stephen Collinson, director of health-care at Sue Ryder Care, said: "We know the Old Palace building will not be fit for purpose in the future and are actively exploring a number of potential options, one of which involves the development of a neuro-rehabilitation facility on the Brookfields site as a centre of excellence."

If Sue Ryder Care did move in, it would have to pay to lease the accommodation.

The PCT is considering five options for the future of Brookfields, in Mill Road.

■ To maintain the 10 NHS-funded continuing care beds and 20 rehabilitation beds in use at Davison House;

■ To utilise all 72 beds at Davison House, including those temporarily closed by the former Cambridge City Primary Care Trust;

■ To use all 72 beds for rehabilitation only with continuing care patients being looked after at home or in private nursing homes;

■ To develop a 60-bed specialist neuro-rehabilitation facility at Brookfields in partnership with the voluntary sector;

■ To close all beds at Davison House and reinvest all clinical resources in community-based care.

Mr Banks said: "At this stage, the Sue Ryder Care expression of interest is one of several options being actively explored."

"No decisions have yet been made and if it transpires that this is a viable option, it would be included in the forthcoming public consultation on the future of the Davison House to commence in the new year."

Liam powers on city lights to add Christmas sparkle

AMAZING fundraiser Liam Fairhurst is to light up a city as he continues raising charity cash while fighting cancer.

Liam will switch on Ely's Christmas lights as his appeal for children's cancer charity CLIC Sargent grows by the day.

The pupil at Soham Village College has raised £125,000, despite being in the midst of a second battle against cancer.

A course of chemotherapy for a tumour in his lung has left Liam attending school in a wheelchair. He previously overcame a tumour in his leg.

Liam, aged 12, will undergo surgery on his lung early next month.

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

His father, Mark Fairhurst, says Liam and the family are feeling positive as the treatment enters a crucial stage. He said: "Liam's leg is playing him up. He is just having to take things easy."

"He is having scans at the end of next week prior to surgery. That is the main bit – to take out the tumour that is in there. Then there is a mopping-up exercise of low-dosage chemotherapy for six months afterwards."

Liam and the city's mayor, Coun Ron Bradney, will switch on the lights in Market Place on Friday, November 30, at 6.45pm.

The festive period will be busy for Liam. Alongside brother Callum, he will be pre-recording a show for Star Radio, to be broadcast on Christmas Day.

With fellow pupils from Soham Village College and generous local residents organising their own fundraising events, Liam's haul for CLIC Sargent is growing steadily. Mr Fairhurst said: "Fingers crossed, the next month could see it get up to £130,000."

Recent events included a Cambridgeshire police golf day that brought in £2,800 for Liam's appeal, while Cherry Hinton Lions FC joined forces with Cambridge Building Society to organise a football tournament which added another £200.

A charity single for Liam's appeal produced by Black

Fig, It's Christmas Time (In the Morning), is now available to download online at napster.co.uk

Liam's amazing campaign began as a tribute to Jack Wilkinson, a friend he met on the children's ward at Addenbrooke's, who later lost a battle with cancer at the age of 12.

After winning a Diana Award for courage, Liam met Princes William and Harry prior to the concert for Diana at Wembley Stadium.

Man found dead near city centre rail tracks

A MAN was found dead near railway lines at Ely on Saturday.

Services between Norfolk and Cambridgeshire were disrupted for an hour following the discovery of the body near the city's railway station.

A spokesman for British Transport Police said a driver of the first morning train saw the body by the tracks 400 metres from the station.

He said it was likely the man, aged 38, had been hit by the last train going through the station on Friday.

There are no suspicious circumstances and the body was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

First Capital Connect services between King's Lynn and Cambridge were replaced by a bus until the line re-opened at 10.30am.

Railway users faced an hour delay.

JPs adjourn machete case

A MAN has admitted carrying a machete.

Mark Lesurf, 43, of High Barns, Ely, pleaded guilty to carrying a machete in a public place.

The charge states he had the object with him on High Barns on July 18 without good reason or lawful authority.

Magistrates in Ely adjourned the case until November 29.

Footballers wax lyrical for much needed donations

FOOTBALLERS volunteered for some painful treatment to help Children in Need.

But Stretham Hotspurs were not being kicked around a football pitch by tough opponents, they were experiencing a type of pain familiar to women – leg-waxing.

The squad submitted to the wince-inducing ritual as part of a special fundraising night at The Red Lion in Stretham.

All proceeds from sponsorship for the brave lads went to Children in Need.

The night also saw a special draw, with local businesses such as Cargos, 3Q Sports, M&Co, Raymans butchers, Reggie's, The White Horse in Waterbeach, The Beauty Room and Cherry Hill Chocolates chipping in with prizes.

Extensions are made to bird flu restrictions

BIRD flu restrictions have been extended to Newmarket following the confirmation of a second outbreak of the deadly H5N1 – more than 30 miles from the town.

Restrictions on poultry movements were extended to cover the whole of Suffolk and much of Norfolk on Monday after the strain of bird flu was confirmed at a farm at Knettishall, near Diss, where a precautionary cull of turkeys had already taken place.

Signs went up on roads around Newmarket and Mildenhall after Defra, the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, extended the zone on Monday.

Poultry farmers within the restricted zone, which extends as far as Shippea Hill on the A1101 near Littleport, have been warned to prevent contact with wild birds.

They are also prevented from sending their birds, waste poultry litter, manure or slurry out of the zone. Birds can still be sent for slaughter within the zones covered by the restrictions. Restrictions also apply to wild game products which cannot move out of the zone and cannot be exported.

Licences are needed for some movements of poultry and eggs.

Fred Landeg, acting chief veterinary officer, said: "The laboratory test results highlight the importance of poultry keepers in the area being extremely vigilant.

"It is essential they practice the highest levels of biosecurity and report any suspicions of disease to their local animal health office."

■ BEAMING . . . the new sculpture called Sluice on Ely riverside.

Picture: Keith Heppell 446868.

Sculpture with moving water images unveiled

A STEEL sculpture that displays video images of water flow – and cost £270,000 – has been unveiled on Ely's riverside.

Sluice, by artist Lulu Quinn, stands next to the Great Ouse.

The sculpture, which has been criticised by some residents for its appearance and price tag, beams moving images of water from Denver Sluice, the point in the Fens where salt and sea water meet.

The Arts Council provided £97,500 for Sluice, with the City of Ely Perspective putting in £2,000 and East Cambridgeshire District Council paying £27,500 from money ring fenced for public art.

Sheila Friend-Smith, a member of the City of Ely Perspective, said: "It will be interesting to see how people react to it. There was a bit of doubt as to where it should be, but I think people are intrigued by it.

"There will be something different to see all day long."

Mrs Friend-Smith believes controversy over the sculpture's price tag is misguided, and stresses the council did not divert funds that could have been used elsewhere.

She said: "That isn't an issue. It was money for arts and for public art in the community.

"A lot of people use the riverside – it is just one more piece of interest."

Sluice was unveiled as part of an exhibition on the 60th anniversary of the devastating Fen floods of 1947.

Protesters hope petition will keep new town at bay

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

PROTESTERS hope a 6,000-strong petition will flatten a developer's plans for a new town.

'Say No to Mereham' campaigners will hand a petition to Richard Ogier, the planning inspector leading an independent inquiry into Multiplex Stannifer's proposed development, tomorrow.

Jim Paice, MP for South East Cambridgeshire, will make his case against the 5,100-home development on the same day.

The dogged protesters have been at the Arkenstall Centre in Haddenham since the inquiry began.

The inquiry is in its final full week, with summing up to follow from December 18 to 20.

The inquiry has heard evidence on transport in the past week, with opponents claiming the A10 will be "hell" if the town is built.

Coun Bill Hunt, a member of Cambridgeshire County Council and East Cambridgeshire District Council, said: "I am delighted that the inspector has agreed to accept our petition, which has been gathered from the local people and is the result of a lot of hard work by the whole of our group.

"The parish councils have spoken, the district councils

■ SAYING NO . . . protesters outside the Mereham planning inquiry.

have spoken and the county council has spoken – all against this monstrous proposed development. The final link in the chain is set to be completed with our democratically elected Member of Parliament coming to say 'No to Mereham'.

"Please, please turn up at 9.30am to see the petition delivered and hear Jim Paice speak."

Mr Ogier is expected to deliver his report early next year, with Hazel Blears, Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government, making the final decision in the spring.

Coun Hunt is confident that the scheme will be turned down. He said: "The inspector seems to me to be a fair-minded man and an open-minded man. I believe from the evidence he has seen, he has no choice but to reject it.

"I have every confidence in Hazel Blears. She has been quoted in Parliament as saying she will make a decision in line with local plans. If she does, she has no option but to reject it."

Mr Paice also believes Ms Blears will turn down the plans. He said: "There have been experts on planning law, on road safety, and on building infrastructure who have poured scorn on the developer's plans for the new town.

"Members of the public have also stood up and given their considered and articulate opinions, which have damned the development."

Last week, Matt Gamble, giving evidence for Cambridgeshire County Council and East Cambridgeshire District Council, criticised Multiplex for its "unrealistically high" estimates on the numbers able to travel from Mereham by public transport.

Mr Gamble, a senior consultant in transport planning for Atkins, said Multiplex would need to build 3,000 car parking spaces at its planned Park and Ride site at Mereham, instead of the 500 put forward.

Multiplex says that jobs in the town and a "high quality" bus service to Cambridge and Ely mean there would be no extra congestion on the A10.

But Mr Gamble told the inquiry that his evidence showed that Multiplex's forecasts "would require the operation of a bus every three to four minutes at peak towards Cambridge to meet demand."

The Mayor of Ely, Coun Ron Bradney, believes the town would bring havoc to the A10. He said: "I can see gridlock between Ely and Cambridge every day and every night. If another 12,000 cars are going into Cambridge, it would go from being bad to being a nightmare. It is a miserable road at the moment."

Coun Bradney would like to see the A10 dualled, but thinks that is unlikely. He said: "The dualling of the A10 has to take second place to the (A142) bypass for Ely – it just isn't going to happen."

Coun Hunt said: "It would be useful to have a helicopter. The A10 will be dreadful – worse than it is now.

"It will be an absolute living hell if you have building work on the houses and construction traffic, as well as widening work going on."

Multiplex has said it will make junction improvements – including the installation of traffic lights in some instances – and dedicated right-turning lanes.

Transport expert David Tucker will give evidence on highways for Multiplex this week.

THE Ely Weekly News welcomes letters from readers. Write to: Readers Letters, Ely Weekly News, 27 Market Place, Ely CB7 4NP or e-mail them to editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk Please be as concise as possible and attach your full name, address and telephone number.

A note in praise of 'platinum support' given by ADeC

Sir, Following last Monday night's overview and scrutiny meeting, I felt I should write to clarify ADeC's involvement with Fenland Jam.

I was concerned that people came away from the meeting assuming that ADeC's sole contribution to Fenland Jam was a one-off donation of £409.

This donation was an important and gratefully received contribution to our funds, but was only a small part of what they have contributed financially to our work (the grant paid for one drum kit which is now in need of repair from extensive use).

Below is a more extensive outline of their contribution.

1. Since ADeC became involved with Fenland Jam in June 2006 they have contributed more than 150 staff hours to the running of Fenland Jam.

2. ADeC accessed additional funding of nearly £7,000 for Fenland Jam, which has enabled us to run a full programme of workshops, demonstration sessions and concerts throughout the year and provided us with equipment.

3. ADeC has created, and manage, a website for Fenland Jam activity (www.eastspace.net/eeljam) and have provided considerable marketing support through producing leaflets and posters.

4. ADeC have helped us to access, manage and develop a large group of volunteers to help provide a safe environment for Fenland Jam to flourish. These volunteers have helped teach and encourage participants. They have also given generously of their time and equipment. The combined number of hours being at least 200 during the last 12 months alone.

5. ADeC has helped Fenland Jam to find venues and negotiate favourable rates of hire. As suggested last Monday, it would be wonderful if ADeC could operate out of a hub venue. This would provide a perfect home for Fenland Jam and go some way towards achieving strategic Aim 4 of the East Cambs Community Safety Strategy by creating a venue where activities to keep young people occupied out of school hours could be established.

6. ADeC has also helped to start several of the young people working towards Arts Award qualifications and covered the costs, administration and tutorial support for this.

Should Fenland Jam have had to organise all the above unassisted, not only would we not have had the expertise, time and support but the cost would have been considerable. Without ADeC it would not merely be a case of us requiring another £409 to continue next year, but we would be looking for funding in the region of £10,000 to be able to repeat our activities of the last 12 months. I regret that this was not the figure put forward on Monday.

Fenland Jam is growing at an encouraging but almost unsustainable rate. In addition to the 60+ who have been attending recently we have dozens more wishing to get involved. At Fenland Jam performances we have also had anything up to an additional 100 local young people attending, enjoying and benefiting as members of the audience. On the petition submitted on Monday at least 70 of the signatures were from under-16s, reflecting how ADeC's works spans all ages.

I started Fenland Jam a while ago, partly in response to the lack of arts/leisure in Ely. I funded it out of my own pocket and it involved considerable time and commitment. It may have quietly disappeared, but ADeC became aware of my work and threw themselves behind it transforming it in a short space of time into the success story it is today.

What we have now is a valuable community resource which people of all ages and social backgrounds can access. No fees are charged and you don't even need to own an instrument. Those with learning and behavioural problems are being encouraged to attend (where they are warmly welcomed) and neighbouring villages are asking if we can establish satellite branches. Youngsters are encouraged to have a focused and productive pastime and as a serving police officer of over 30 years I can not stress the importance of this enough. Parents come and tell me how their son/daughters behaviour has improved at school and home due to taking up music and attending Fenland Jam. The father whose erratic son, going off the rails who now has a focus in life, and is taking up studies in subjects previously shunned, because of ADeC supporting Fenland Jam!

ADeC has once again excelled itself in producing a best practice model and I am sure that Fenland Jam is just one of many projects where they have contributed far more money, staff time, admin support and marketing support than is realised and appreciated. Most of what they do is behind the scenes and goes unseen (perhaps this has been their downfall).

From my experience they make every penny go as far as they can and when this runs out they give up their own time and resources. Any income Fenland Jam makes goes to charity or back into the community through buying instruments from local shops and employing local tutors.

Fenland Jam needs ADeC's "platinum" support (which incidentally they provide at bronze prices) to continue. I for one don't want to take a step backwards and start all over again without them. I appreciate the fact that a decision was made last Monday which this letter can not affect, but I sincerely hope that the council show the appropriate care, respect and support due to the ADeC staff in this worrying period in the same amount that ADeC have shown to the community over these past years.

Council pledges to keep cinema from closing

A CITY'S cinema will not be killed off by the tough challenge of finding a new home, a council leader has pledged.

Ely Cinema, which is run by volunteers for Arts Development in East Cambridgeshire (ADeC), will be homeless when the 140-year-old Maltings closes for a six-month refit in May 2008.

The cinema is not certain to return when the building reopens under a new leaseholder, and there are fears the city has no other suitable venue.

But Brian Ashton, the leader of East Cambridgeshire District

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

Council, believes a new home can be found. He said: "The repair work at the Maltings is essential for the future of the building but it has led to speculation that Ely will lose its cinema. I can assure the public that this is not our intention. Despite the Maltings closing in May, we will make every effort to make sure a replacement venue is ready.

"Officers are working in partnership with ADeC to ensure we find a cinema in the best possible location for those that wish to watch the wide variety of films that the Maltings has become renowned for."

ADeC took over the running of Ely Cinema in 2005, when it was on the verge of closing.

Jane Wilson, ADeC director, will meet with councillors to try to identify venues. She said: "I am very pleased to see they have this level of concern for the cinema.

"We have been having a look at sites, but we haven't found an ideal location. It is hard to find a venue with raked seating and with housing for the projectors."

ADeC recently saw the £172,242 grant it receives from the council chopped by £70,000, but the cinema seems likely to continue to have funding. Ms Wilson said: "The indications we have had from the council is that the cinema is one of the things they want to see retained."

ADeC will consider bidding for the new lease on the Maltings. It wants to create a "hub" venue for Ely, housing the cinema and art gallery, as well as hosting plays and concerts.

Ms Wilson said: "The first issue is the building itself, the physical state of the building. It is a fully repairing lease. In terms of the business model, there is huge potential – it is just the physical issue."

Teenage band battles it out to win studio prize

LITTLE DOWNHAM band Error 404 (pictured) walked away with one of the prizes in a "Battle of the Bands" contest on Saturday.

Around 350 music fans watched 11 bands battle it out in the X Factor-style competition at Gamlingay.

Originally dreamed up by a group of Gamlingay youngsters as a way of raising funds for village youth projects, the event raised more than £2,000.

The bands were divided into two age groups, with five bands competing in the under 18 category, and six in the 18-25s.

The winners of the under 18s were Target 'n' Takedown from Lolworth, a 16-year-old rock/indie trio. The winners of the over 18s were Error 404, a four-man pop/punk band of 17 and 18 year olds from Little Downham.

The two winning bands will get a chance to go into a studio and record their own CD, produce the sleeve artwork, be given £150 to spend on musical equipment and have the opportunity to land a gig in a local pub.

Pioneer's footsteps to be retraced

A FAMOUS campaigner for women's rights is coming back to Littleport.

A cast of young Littleport residents will recreate Emmeline Pankhurst's visit to the village's public hall in Hitches Street on December 7, 1910 in Watchwords.

The production comes from Littleport Players, with funding from the Local Network Fund of £6,990.

Watchwords is the work of playwright Jean Rees, who envisaged the work as a celebration of Littleport life. The play portrays the hopes and expectations of local children as they grew up under the dutiful influence of family, friends and church.

They worked hard on the land and in the shirt factory, roaming the Fens to explore its dark places and ghost stories. The visit of the famous suffragette Emmeline Pankhurst brought prospects of great change.

An enthusiastic cast of local youngsters worked with Tom Marty to develop a community play derived from stories, jokes, old photographs and historical sources.

Watchwords is being performed at Littleport Village Hall on December 8 and 9 at 7.30pm.

Tickets, costing £4 and £2, are available by calling Page's Gift Shop on (01353) 860462 or JH Adams on (01353) 860222.

A day of festive delights for kids

CHRISTMAS came early for youngsters at a special fundraising event.

Haddenham Pre-School held a Christmas shopping day at the village's Arkenstall Centre, with Santa as the guest of honour.

While parents shopped, kids were kept entertained with crafts and the chance to decorate some tasty biscuits.

Last year, the event raised enough money to fund a new play area at the pre-school.

For those who did not get the chance to meet Santa, there was the chance to write to him at his North Pole home address.

There was also a family photographer to take some lovely snaps just in time for Christmas.

■ WISH LIST . . . Santa helps Lauren Minns, eight, post her letter for Christmas.

Bluetongue case is confirmed

ANOTHER case of Bluetongue disease has been confirmed at a Cambridgeshire farm.

A cow on land at Chettisham tested positive after Government vets moved in.

Farmers Alan and Roger Martin called in the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (Defra) after noticing a cow called Bluebell, one of 25 grazing at Chettisham, had blisters on the side of her nose.

The Martins are based in Little Downham.

Defra confirmed that the number of cases identified in Britain had risen from 62 to 63.

The latest case follows a positive test two weeks ago for a cow owned by AG Wright and Sons of Haddenham, which was grazing near Pymoor.

That led to the control zone being extended to cover northern Cambridgeshire.

The zone has not changed as a result of the Chettisham case.

Residents make green pledge

A COUNCIL roadshow saw 500 people commit to reduce their energy consumption by 20 per cent.

East Cambridgeshire District Council's Energy Advice Roadshows outside Co-operative food stores saw residents pledge to turn down their washing machines to 30°C, only use as much boiling water as is needed in kettles, and turn their central heating down by 1°C.

Each person received a free energy efficient light bulb in return for their commitment.

Katarina McCartney, home energy conservation officer at East Cambridgeshire District Council, said: "It was heartening to see how enthusiastic East Cambridgeshire residents were for doing their bit for the environment."

For more information on energy conservation, call the council on (01353) 665555.

Stolen lead mounts up

THIEVES have stolen lead and copper worth over £5,500 from schools in East Cambridgeshire in the last few months.

Three schools in East Cambridgeshire have been the victims of thefts - Fordham Primary School, Weatheralls Primary School in Soham and Isleham Primary School.

Coun Jill Tuck, cabinet member for children and young people's services on Cambridgeshire County Council, said: "Not only do these thefts disrupt children's education when affected buildings have to close, but they also pose a great danger." Anyone with information on lead thefts should call Cambridgeshire police on 0845 4564564 or contact Crime-stoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

MPs join fight for police cash

POLICE chiefs and politicians have met to discuss the impact of population growth and of rising immigration on the Cambridgeshire's resources.

Chief Constable Julie Spence met county MPs Jim Paice, Malcolm Moss and Shailesh Vara to update them on the force's case to get an extra £2 million for 100 more officers to cope with population growth and increased crime levels.

Mrs Spence has said the county has been "short-changed" by the Government for a number of years and that grants had failed to take into account the population increase, partly driven by rising migrant numbers.

She said the force has received £17.2 million less than it should have done since 2002.

The meeting at the force's Hinchingsbrooke headquarters was called by Robert Sturdy, Conservative MEP for the East of England.

Mr Sturdy said: "I was greatly concerned to learn about the impact faced by all our services and those concerns raised by

BY John Downing

Cambridgeshire Constabulary in meeting increased policing demands as a result of increases in population.

"Funding for police in Cambridgeshire has not kept pace with the true impact of population growth.

"Increasingly the police face more complex criminal investigations and incidents where perpetrators, victims and witnesses are not from the UK and require significant additional support from translations to welfare and support. This needs to be recognised by Government."

He added: "This was my first meeting with Julie Spence and I was very impressed. She has a great handle on the situation and I am 100 per cent behind her.

"She has stuck her head above the parapet and you should be very proud of your chief constable."

Mr Paice, Cambridgeshire South East MP, said that an increasing amount of crime was taking place within migrant communities.

He said: "They may have enough English to get by but not enough English for a police interview.

"Interpreters have to be brought in and this costs money. And the cases can take three times as long to deal with as for an English speaker."

After the meeting, a police spokeswoman said: "Mrs Spence fully briefed the MPs and MEPs on the population growth issues in Cambridgeshire.

"They support the constabulary bid for additional officers and are looking forward to seeing a positive response from the Home Office."

Mrs Spence was due to hold a crunch summit with Home Secretary Jacqui Smith yesterday to put her case in person, along with Coun Keith Walters, chairman of the Cambridgeshire Police Authority.

Mr Paice said: "We are 100 per cent behind the police. We will do what we can to persuade the Government that Cambridgeshire needs more money."

Conservative leader David

■ STRAIN . . . the influx of migrant workers in the region is over-stretching police resources, and MEP Robert Sturdy, inset, agrees.

Cameron said Mrs Spence's campaign is a "sensible" reaction to rising immigration levels in the county.

And immigration Minister Liam Byrne praised her calls for more officers to cope with the migrant influx.

"He said it was "brilliant" that she had spoken out and her comments backed his views that a "new balance" is needed in immigration policy.

Mrs Spence met the Lithuanian

Ambassador, Vygaudas Usackas, last month to discuss the difficulties facing the force, some of them posed by the rising stream of migrant workers from Eastern Europe.

A recent survey showed that migrants make up more than one in 10 registered workers or benefits claimants in Cambridge.

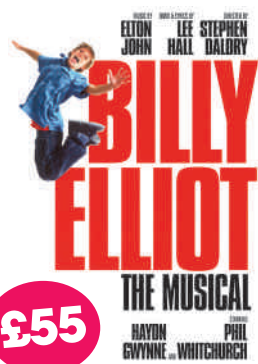

Since 2005, a total of 7,200 migrants have registered to work in the city, including 1,720 from Poland.

Heart patients in call for more donors to sign up

PAPWORTH heart transplant patients are appealing for more donors to help surgeons perform more miracles.

The chief executive of the world-famous hospital has admitted the centre's reputation has been damaged by the public inquiry into the early deaths of heart transplant patients.

But Benjamin Brown, 83, of The Causeway in Soham, said he has full confidence in Papworth after having his heart transplant 26 years ago.

He said: "Whenever I speak to someone about my operation I urge them to join the donor register."

"I would advise people to do it every time. The way I was treated after my operation was wonderful, and I would recommend it to anyone. The work they do is marvellous."

Diana Sanders, 51, who had a heart and lung transplant at the hospital five years ago, said donors provide comfort to their bereaved families as well as the heart's recipient.

She said: "It can bring a lot of comfort to those families if they can see that something good has come out of their relative's death. This is particularly so with children's hearts if people can see their heart giving someone a longer life."

England's Chief Medical Officer (CMO) has called for a system of "presumed consent" to be introduced to tackle chronic shortages of organs.

This would mean that instead of the current system, where people have to agree to becoming donors before their death, it would be assumed they wanted to be donors unless otherwise stated.

Mrs Sanders said: "The 'opt in' debate is an interesting one. The risk is that if people don't get around to it then recipients could take an organ that someone didn't want to give. That would be hard for a recipient to take if there was an element of coercion. Over all, organ donation is a fantastic thing."

The move was rejected by MPs in 2004. Then Health Minister Rosie Winterton declared it was not up to Parliament to make decisions about what became of people's bodies when they died.

But CMO Sir Liam Donaldson said efforts to persuade more people to either carry donor cards or sign the NHS donor register had failed.

Stephen Bridge, chief executive at Papworth Hospital, said: "UK Transplant has said the age of donor hearts and lungs implanted today is older than it was 10 or 15 years ago."

"It has become that way because there are fewer deaths on the roads, which used to be the biggest source of donor."

"The chief medical officer's ideas happen in other countries and it could lead to an increase in the number of donors."

Primary school 'must do better'

A PRIMARY school has been judged to be "satisfactory" in an Ofsted inspection.

Millfield Primary School in Littleport was given Grade 3 overall, with some "good features" at Grade 2.

The school was given Grade 2 for effectiveness of the foundation stage, personal well-being and development, and care guidance and support.

But the inspector's report said the school should improve by raising standards, "particularly for higher attaining pupils in English and mathematics at the end of Year 6, and in reading and writing in Year 2".

The report also said it should "develop more consistency in the quality of teaching and learning so that all lessons are as lively and challenging as the best".

Other recommendations include ensuring "staff are more readily held to account for any lapses in pupils' progress by making checking processes more rigorous" and improving "the quality of curriculum planning to ensure the work set meets the differing needs of pupils in all lessons".

Hockey plans to improve fitness

A COUNCIL and school hockey tournament will help youngsters to get fit.

East Cambridgeshire District Council is holding a tournament, in conjunction with the Witchford School Sports Partnership, at Ely Hockey Club, on Wednesday, November 21.

Tom Hickson, sports development officer at the council, said: "Hockey is a great team sport that helps to get children fit and involved in exercise."

"For some children this will be a new sport to try, but I am sure there will be others who will already know the game."

Council scheme for home buyers

ANYONE buying or selling a house can take advantage of a council's land charges search service.

East Cambridgeshire District Council offers a service including a full record of planning applications on a property, information on listed buildings, ancient monuments, tree preservation orders and conservation areas, and the status of roads and footpaths which affect the property.

Jeanette Thompson, head of legal services at the council, said: "Our aim is to take some of the hassle out of the moving process."

For more information call the council on (01353) 665555.

CALLERS to a council are no longer being left hanging on the telephone.

East Cambridgeshire District Council says the Customer Relationship Management system it installed in the summer has taken more than 20,000 calls and slashed waiting times to a little over 14 seconds.

The number of abandoned calls has halved, while callers are getting answers to their queries quicker.

The percentage of calls handled and answered at the first point of contact now stand at 94.2 per cent.

Andrew Killington, executive director for HR and IT at the council, said: "One of the key priorities is to be able to answer inquiries on different subjects at a single point of contact to stop the public having to be transferred from one department to another."

"Our staff are highly motivated to deliver excellent standards of customer satisfaction and we hope customers will notice the improvements which are being made."

To register for the new customer relationship management system, call the customer services team on (01353) 665555.

■ DOWN THE HATCH . . . Charles Roberts from Stretham has won a CAMRA award for his cider.

Charles brews a winning recipe

CAMBRIDGESHIRE cider makers have fought off competition from the big guns to win another award.

Charles Roberts won CAMRA's East Anglian Cider Competition, with his Stretham-based Pickled Pig Cider brewery beating blends from Suffolk, a traditional hotbed of cider-making.

Michael Czarnobaj came third with his Ely-based Hereward Brewery in the ceremony at the Norwich Beer Festival, adding to the first place he took in another CAMRA competition in March this year.

Mr Roberts, a 43-year-old management consultant who has made cider as a hobby for the past five years, said: "There is a resurgence of interest in cider-making in Cambridgeshire."

The winning Porkers Snout from Pickled Pig, described by judges as a "delicate, well-balanced cider with a floral aroma which develops into an evenly-rounded, sweet finish", is available on draught at the Lazy Otter in Stretham, the King's Head in Wilburton and the Plough in Little Downham.

Pickled Pig, which has won four gold medals this year, uses locally grown apples.

CASH prizes are up for grabs for the region's best community magazine.

The Village and Community Magazine Awards for 2007 are open for entries, and editors of local publications are invited to send in their top work.

This is the tenth anniversary for the awards, given by Cambridge Building Society and backed by the Weekly News. The aim is to recognise the commitment of the people involved in producing magazines and newsletters for the community, many of whom are volunteers working in their own time.

There are two categories for publications – Small there are also a number of Highly Commended certificates and an award for the Most Promising Newcomer.

Julie Potter, marketing assistant at the building society, said: "The judges will look at features such as front cover design, distribution, editorial quality, business commitment, community content, presentation and local information they contain. "I'm sure that in this special year we will get more entries than ever before."

Entry forms are available in all branches of the Cambridge Building Society, and the closing date for entries is January 31, 2008. Entries should be sent to Cambridge Building Society's Head Office Administration Centre, 51

Witchford's hidden gem

ADVERTISING FEATURE

HUSBAND and wife team, Verity and Luke Pearson have been running the well established Needhams Restaurant since March 2000.

The couple have built up a good business with regular clientele. Needhams is a hidden treasure in the village of Witchford and the century old farmhouse has been lovingly refurbished to make the whole building feel elegant, yet warm and intimate.

Chef proprietor, Luke produces outstanding dishes using the best and freshest local produce available and with Christmas approaching, December is no exception.

Throughout December a Christmas

■ RECIPE . . . from chef proprietor Luke Pearson.

Needhams' locally sourced festive menu party menu will be running Tuesday to Friday at both lunchtimes and evenings for parties of six and above. The à la carte menu will also be available Tuesday to Saturday and on Sunday a three course set menu is available.

Here is one of Luke's delicious recipes for you to try at home:

Caramelised banana frozen parfait

Ingredients
2 small bananas sliced (1cm)
30g castor sugar
50 ml rum or banana liquor
½ pint of double cream
4 oz castor sugar
4 oz egg whites

First caramelise the bananas by putting the 30g of castor sugar in a thick-based frying pan over a high heat with a drop of water. When the sugar has started to turn golden add in your bananas and toss in the hot caramel (be very careful as a splash will burn quite badly).

When the bananas are fully coated pour in your rum or liquor, again with care as this may flambé, and allow to dissolve into the caramel, remove from heat, mash lightly and allow to cool.

Now whip your double cream and your cooled bananas together to soft peaks. Whip your egg whites to soft peaks add your sugar and continue to whisk till stiff peaks are just formed.

Finally gently fold in your egg white mixture into your cream and bananas.

Place in a cling film lined two pint terrine tin and freeze at least over night.

To serve slice off a slab and enjoy accompanied, maybe with some chocolate cookies.

■ Christmas Party Menu 2007 priced £26.95 (crackers included)

Crostini of peppered smoked mackerel with beetroot, chive and sour cream dressing.

Models for big kids at City Cycle Centre

■ CHRISTMAS PRESENT . . . perfect for the young or young at heart.

CUSTOMERS to the model department at Ely's City Cycle Centre will find a whole range of models waiting for them.

The department has a range of branded models including ranges from Airfix, Hornby, Scalextric, Revell and Humbrol which are suitable for model fans aged eight and upwards.

The model department is managed by Philip Cox who has worked at the City Cycle Centre for nearly 30 years. Starting off in the DIY section Philip then moved into the cycle department when the shop was all located on the ground floor.

Philip says: "When the cycle department was moved to the first floor I took the opportunity to make a department especially for the models. We have always sold models but they used to be combined within the toy department."

The model department is now entering its busiest time of year and there are lots of model kits available which will make the ideal present for a model enthusiast. Philip adds: "When the nights draw in people can't get out as much so it's the perfect time to do an Airfix kit or put together a piece of a Hornby train set. We are starting to get quite busy now as once November 5 is out of the way people start to focus on their Christmas shopping."

City Cycle Centre offers a Christmas club throughout the store which enables customers to reserve their chosen items with a deposit and then pay the outstanding price in instalments.

City Cycle Centre is open Monday to Saturday 8.30am-5.30pm.

Get creative with winter flowers

IN the next few weeks we will be digging out the Christmas decorations from the attic, untangling the discarded fairy lights from last year and rearranging the furniture to accommodate the tree.

But before you cover the house with tinsel, why not make room for some more natural decorations this year?

Florist Jamie Aston, author of Flower Arranging Made Simple, says that a great way to add some seasonal sparkle to your home is with a little bit of flower power.

"This time of year allows us to express ourselves. There is endless scope to be creative," he says. "Christmas has to be every florist's favourite time. I always spend many hours at home decorating the fireplace and tree with pine cones from the local forest."

Jamie, who runs a flower arranging school as well as stores in London and inside Selfridges in Manchester, says being good with flowers at any time of year is all a matter of confidence.

"Flower arranging should be enjoyable," he says. "You only need a little guidance to get yourself started. Then, once you start learning what works for you and which flowers go together, your confidence will improve."

"For a simple, but effective Christmas decoration you could use stems of berries, dust them with fake snow or glitter and put candles round them."

"One of my other favourites is the winter wreath, which is a fun piece to make as it allows for endless creativity." Here Jamie shows us how to create a stunning Christmas wreath:

FLOWERS

- 1 bag of sphagnum moss
- 3 bunches of Scotch pine
- 3 bunches of sugar pine
- 12 large headed white roses

OTHER MATERIALS

- Reel wire
- 35cm wire wreath frame
- 12 pine cones
- 9 mini white paper doves
- Strands of crystal or glass beads
- Spray glue
- Iridescent glitter

1. Soak your moss in water and rinse out as you would a dishcloth. Attach the reel wire onto the wreath frame with a simple knot. Place small hand-sized clumps of moss on top of the wreath frame and bind with wire.

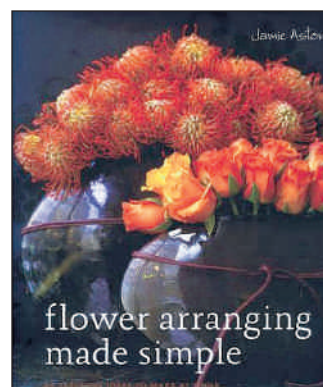

2. Add more clumps of moss onto the frame, binding tightly all way round. Don't cut wire at end.

3. Cut all your pine into 13cm lengths and assemble into little bunches. Bind a bunch of Scotch pine on top.

4. Place a bunch of sugar pine over the bunch you have just bound. Sit it at a slightly different angle to cover the binding point of the last bunch. Continue until you have covered the frame.

5. Use extra props such as cones, birds, crystals and roses and wire them if not already mounted. Spray each rose head with spray glue and gently dip into the glitter.

6. Attach the roses and pine cones in clusters of three, attach the doves and crystals evenly. Finally, wire strands of crystals or glass beads to the bottom of frame.

Create a stylish Christmas tree

CHRISTMAS is the time of year when we want our home to look magical with a beautiful tree as the focal point, but all too often the seasonal gremlins spoil our plans.

These come in many guises from wobbly, funny-shaped trees to flickering or dud lights and a not-so-dazzling array of baubles that family sentiment demands should all be hung.

■ KEEP IT SIMPLE . . . don't clutter it up with too many ornaments.

So instead of a glittering, sparkling sanctuary – like those enviable rooms in the glossy magazines – the whole effect can be nearer to a garish grotto.

But if a stylishly-decorated home has always been on your wish list be reassured. You don't need magic to make that dream come true.

Geraldine James of Selfridges reveals her secrets to help you create a stellar display.

According to Geraldine James, buying manager for Christmas at Selfridges, a traditional style is the favourite for this season. Geraldine says: "Christmas decoration follows fashion, like everything else nowadays, and over the years we've seen all sorts of trends from ultra-trendy black trees, through to fluorescent pink ones.

"There's lots of red and gold, wooden ornaments and also tiny hanging replicas of woodland creatures like squirrels and birds," says Geraldine. "Even tinsel and silver strands hanging from branches are both enjoying a revival."

Interior designer Cecilia Neal offers her designer tips for decorating the tree:

■ TREE CHOICE: If it's a real tree choose one slightly taller than you need, so that if the top is spindly you can cut it down. Its tip will be hidden by the star or angel. Test fairy lights and always put them on first before adding other decorations.

■ DON'T OVERDO IT: She advises: "Don't feel you have to put on every decoration that you possess. Choose a selection that suits the style you're creating. "Using too many will conceal the shape and colour of the tree. Instead use different sizes of baubles in the same colour to give interest."

■ COLOUR IS KEY: Echo one of the two key colours in your scheme in ribbon, paper and felt. Wind coloured ribbon around the tree's trunk, then cut lengths of ribbon of around 9 inches in length and tie into bows for the branches. Use the same colour crepe paper or felt and wrap around the tree's base, and finish with a large coloured 'mat' of felt on which you stand the tree, and display presents.

■ BALANCING ACT: Use larger ornaments at the bottom of the tree, graduating to smaller ones at the top. Also, use heavier ornaments on the thicker branches and place them further back on the stems, nearer the trunk.

■ STUNNING . . . pick a colour theme and use it carefully.

■ BEYOND BAUBLES: Cecilia says: "After you've arranged ornaments add a few clip on decorations or small treasures into the dark spaces between branches. Finally, drape garlands or beaded chains over branches."

Originality will help maintain an ideal balance

If you haven't yet planted your winter pots, you need to do so now to allow them to have ample time to settle in and develop.

Replace faded plants with red-berried evergreens such as Skimmia japonica reevesiana and winter-flowering pansies. If you want some springtime surprises, it's your last chance to under plant them with bulbs such as tulips and hyacinths.

Perfect foliage plants which will last through the cooler months include the shrubby winter-flowering Viburnum tinus, partnered by winter-flowering heathers and variegated ivies to soften the edge of the container. Miniature cyclamen in a variety of colours are also widely available and the milder the winter, the better the blooms will flower.

Evergreen foliage becomes much more important in the winter. While mahonia can be much maligned in the average garden, as it often pops up everywhere after initial planting, it can be effective in a pot as its pretty yellow flowers provide a splash of colour in the winter months and also a fantastic scent. It is complemented well if you plant evergreen sedge such as Uncinia rubra around the mahonia, its spindly leaves draping over the rim.

Other good evergreen choices for winter pots include Cordyline australis 'Purplea', ■ COLOURFUL WINTER BERRIES... they liven up those seasonal pots!

Euonymus fortunei 'Emerald Gaiety' and a number of heucheras.

If you want a contemporary container, go for a single planting of an evergreen with a strong form to it.

If you're a low maintenance gardener, evergreens are a pretty safe bet for winter pots. So often, my winter-flowering pansies give up the ghost relatively soon after planting and don't come out again until spring, when early daffodils are coming into their own.

If you are planting pansies, stand pots near to the house in the sunniest spot and use good multipurpose compost with a generous layer of drainage to allow rain to run through quickly before it can chill the roots.

Colourful ornamental cabbages also need to be sheltered from frost and damp or their leaves will quickly rot.

If you want colourful berries in your display, look no further than Gaultheria mucronata, while the heather Erica gracilis, or 'Cape Heath', has tiny flowers which appear in autumn and continue going until spring. It needs to be planted in groups to ensure cross pollination if it is to produce masses of white, pink, red or purple berries.

Remember too, that container plants are vulnerable to frost damage as the root system is not as well insulated above ground. If the rootball freezes, evergreens can risk death as the moisture stripped from the leaves in windy weather cannot be replaced. Those in containers should be moved into a sheltered spot close to the house, while horticultural fleece or hessian sacking packed with straw should be wrapped around pots to insulate them.

Fleece can also be draped over the top of evergreens such as azaleas to protect the buds from frost, but the fleece can be removed during the daytime when the early frost has thawed.

If you are mulching the containers, use natural products to provide extra interest, such as cones or conkers gathered on a walk, or shells from the beach if you have a seaside garden.

Try nipping disease in the bud, too. A common problem which occurs in many colourful plants chosen for winter pots, such as primula, is botrytis, or powdery mildew. Velvety grey mould appears on leaves and flowers and the only thing you can do is remove all the dead parts of the plant and don't allow water to stand on leaves and soft shoots in dull weather.

Satirical star kicks off new comedy showcase

A NEW comedy showcase kicks off with a star of TV and radio. Mervyn Stutter, an actor, comedian, satirical singer and founder member of The Flying Pickets, will perform at ADeC's first Slippery Eel Comedy Showcase at The Maltings in Ely on Sunday, from 7.30pm.

Mervyn is the star of the Radio 4 comedy programme Getting Nowhere Fast and is best known for his Pick of the Fringe. He has also appeared with Jasper Carrott in Carrott Confidential. Digby Chacksfield, programme manager at ADeC, said: "For our first comedy night we're having cabaret-style seating for a more intimate evening of entertainment. "Here, in a lovably rambling and hence elastic format, are some of the satirical songs which he, his loud shirts, his guitar and his harmonica have strummed out over the years."

Tickets cost £8 in advance or £10 on the door.

They are available from ADeC, Babylon Gallery, Waterside, Ely; and Burrows Bookshop, High St Passage, Ely.

For more information, call (01353) 616991, or log on to www.adec.org.uk

Black and white art

A WINTER exhibition focuses on black and white.

Artists exhibiting include Karin Bablok, Antonia Salmon, Alison Gautrey, Gill Forsbrook, Tina Ashdown and John Dillistone.

For more information, call (01353) 666675.

Craft from Tibet on show

TIBETAN crafts are on show at an exhibition – and could make a special Christmas gift. Haddenham Galleries is hosting Tales from Tibet: The Jewel in the Lotus tomorrow at 6.30pm.

The exhibition will show work by more than 40 artists.

For more information, call (01353) 749188.

BOLLYWOOD queen and reality TV survivor Shilpa Shetty arrives in Cambridge next week for an all singing, all dancing extravaganza.

Musical Miss Bollywood is her first big project since an infamous stint in Celebrity Big Brother when a racism row turned into an international incident.

She plays Indian dancer Maya, who comes to London to open a dance school but has to contend with 2012 Olympic developers, falling in love and a rival diva.

Reviews have been mixed but Shilpa insists the show allows the British public to see a side of her overshadowed by the tabloids.

"My job is an actress and this is what I've been doing for the past 15 years but the UK hasn't really seen that."

The story of a young woman struggling to break into the industry couldn't be further from reality when you look at Shilpa's meteoric rise in the Indian film world. Raised in the Southern Indian state of Karnataka, she landed a hit with her first film Baazigar in 1993 aged just 18.

"I wanted to be a model and somebody saw my photograph at an agency and offered me a part in a movie, the rest was history," she said.

■ BOLLYWOOD SUPERSTAR . . . Shilpa Shetty.

Although she's keen to be as well known for her films in the UK, as she is in India, it's going to be an uphill struggle getting past the Big Brother debacle.

But despite allegations of racist bullying by her Big Brother housemates Jade Goody, Jo O'Meara and Danielle Lloyd she says she has no regrets about the show.

"I'm glad that what happened happened because it really did touch upon the issue of racism which does exist in this country, sadly.

"When I came here people were very nice to me but I hear different stories from people and they are sometimes shocking."

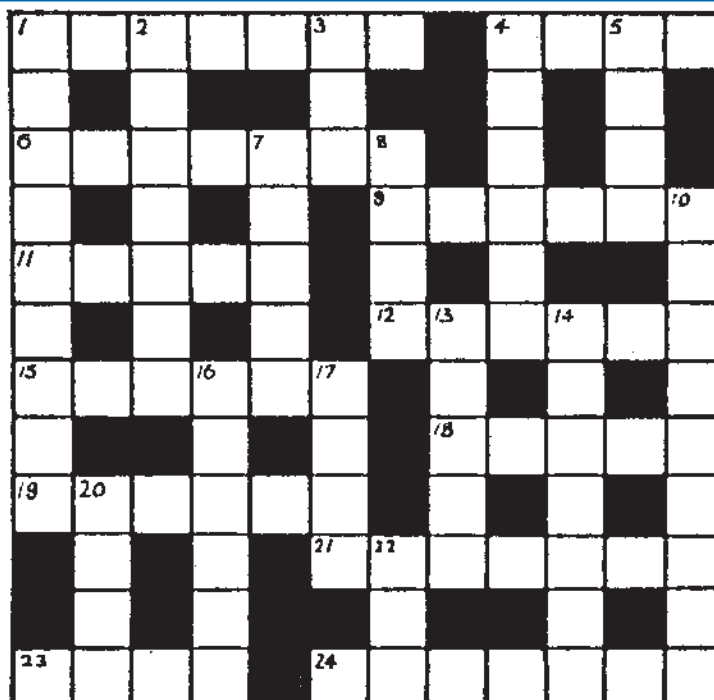

Miss Bollywood is at the Corn Exchange from November 27 to November 29 at 7.30pm. Tickets are £23.50-£32.50. To book call (01223) 357851.

Gemini May 22 - June 22

There is a wonderful chance to balance your interests with others. If your partner wants you to work less, work out such an arrangement. A little compromise goes a long way. You've got to focus on improving your personal life.

Leo July 24 - Aug 23

A blissful romantic encounter is slated. This is a wonderful week to get engaged or married. Financial constraints could stop you buying something you really want. Restraint now will pay off handsomely later in the year.

Virgo Aug 24 - Sept 23

An unusual partnership gathers force this week. You may decide to reunite with an old business associate or lover. But balance your personal and professional life. Don't be too stern with family. A light touch works best.

Libra Sept 24 - Oct 23

Work takes some interesting twists and turns in the months ahead. Your services may no longer be needed by an organisation. It's time to seek greener pastures. Think about a whole new industry that taxes your intellectual talents.

Scorpio Oct 24 - Nov 22

Your love life sizzles for the next few months but do not rush in where angels fear to tread, as you don't want any nasty surprises. Adjusting the power balance is necessary if you're going to remain with a business or romantic partner.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Sagittarius Nov 23 - Dec 21

Changes on the home front occur with rapid succession after this week. You may be sent on a series of business trips that take you away from your nearest and dearest. Try not to let these separations mar a close relationship.

Aquarius Jan 21 - Feb 19

A love interest could force your hand. It's time to take your relationship to the next level or part ways altogether. Fortunately, better opportunities for love are on the horizon. Don't join bank accounts just yet, though.

City centre living in Ely

IN AN increasingly time-poor society, living close to a city centre helps to free up some of the precious hours in a day, meaning less time spent travelling and more time with family and friends. At Bishop's Place, Hopkins Homes' development in central Ely, purchasers are making the most of the prime location and the convenience of having everything right on the doorstep.

"We have seen a mix of purchasers, including young buyers, families and also downsizers," said Claire Richards, head of sales and marketing for Hopkins Homes. "One of the major attractions of Bishop's Place is the development's central location. Ely's city centre is approximately 380 metres away and the train station is approximately 480 metres from the development, which is ideal for commuters.

"We are currently offering purchasers at Bishops Place the opportunity to part exchange or take advantage of our assisted sale scheme on selected plots.

"We hope that this will not only put less strain on purchasers' wallets but it will also help to make the move a more enjoyable and hassle-free experience."

Bishop's Place is on Broad Street, and comprises 17 spacious two, three and four-bedroom houses in six different designs, all of which draw on elements of the local architecture. The interiors are classic yet contemporary, and finished to the very highest standards. Some of the properties have their own private garden, some have a garage and all have their own parking space.

Three-bedroom houses are currently available priced from £269,995.

MOTORING

Motorists are miserable, says poll

BRITISH motorists are consumed with misery, says a new report.

An overwhelming 98 per cent admitted there is something that drives them mad about being a motorist in the UK, according to research from Barclays Personal Loans.

With rising fuel prices pushing petrol and diesel to over one pound a litre, top of the misery list is the cost of fuel with over a quarter of motorists citing it as their main complaint about motoring. This result is reflected across the country, peaking with more than a third of drivers citing it as their main motoring moan in Wales. However, Londoners are unconcerned about fuel prices, preferring to complain about the traffic jams, parking restrictions, roadworks, motoring fines and charges that make for a hellish driving experience in the capital.

Gary Duggan, managing director for Barclays Personal Loans, said: "With petrol and diesel above £1 in most places, it is perhaps surprising that three quarters of motorists can find some other aspect of driving that drives them more mad than fuel prices – however, Londoners are obviously the least happy finding five other things that irritate them more.

"Although we can't do anything about the cost of fuel, traffic jams or congestion charging, purchasing a car has become easier as we have recently reduced our rates on our loans to as low as 6.8 per cent, and to help a little bit more we will give £50 to customers who switch their current loan to us. So you can reduce costs whilst fuel prices are going up."

Across the UK motorists turn on their own, naming "other motorists" as the second worst thing about driving. Boy racers, white van men and Sunday drivers are all named and shamed as the most irritating road users, with tractors and caravans close behind. Younger people are most irritated by elderly drivers whilst older motorists bemoan boy racers.

Third and fourth in the list are traffic jams and the poor quality of roads, surprisingly leaving road tax, speed limits, insurance costs and motoring fines much further down the list of complaints.

But looking on the bright side, two per cent of drivers found nothing to complain about at all. "I can only assume they run their cars on biofuel and they live in the Outer Hebrides," concluded Duggan.

Free car health check from ATS

NATIONWIDE fast-fit network ATS Euromaster is urging drivers across the UK to ensure their cars are prepared for winter by taking advantage of a free vehicle health check.

The no-obligation inspections are available at any of ATS Euromaster's 490 service centres across England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

The vehicle health checks are suitable for any make, model and age of car or van and takes just 15 minutes (no need to book). The inspection covers tyre tread depth, tyre condition, tyre pressure and includes visual inspections of front brakes, battery, exhaust and shock absorbers, with a written report issued to drivers on completion.

Last winter ATS Euromaster technicians carried out thousands of free vehicle health checks. The most commonly found defects were under-inflated tyres and tyres with less than 1.6mm of tread remaining (the legal limit – although in line with many car manufacturers, ATS Euromaster recommend replacing at 3mm).

Call ATS on 0800 505 505, text 'tyres' to 82025 or visit www.atseuromaster.co.uk

WHAT IS AN MOTTEST?

MOT originally stood for the "Ministry of Transportation". If your car is 3 years old or older, it needs to undergo an MOT test once a year which aims to ensure that your vehicle meets the minimum legal requirements for road safety and emission in the exhaust.

WHAT IS BEING CHECKED DURING AN MOTTEST?

The test ensures that the vehicle's lights, steering, suspension, brakes, tyres, exhaust, emissions, seatbelts and general vehicle functionality (e.g. horn, washer, wiper blades, vehicle condition) all meet the legal requirements.

VW's only way is space up! blue

VOLKSWAGEN this week unveiled the third and most advanced iteration yet of the up! family of concept vehicles.

Named space up! blue and taking its inspiration from the classic 1950's Samba Bus, the concept vehicle is powered by a pioneering high-temperature fuel cell linked to a series of 12 lithium-ion batteries. The innovative power sources are linked to a rear-mounted electric motor developing 59bhp and 88lb ft of torque.

Running solely on the bank of lithium-ion batteries the space up! blue has a range of around 65 miles. When drawing energy from the fuel cell a range of 155 miles is possible - bringing the vehicle's maximum theoretical range to 220 miles.

The new drivetrain is fully integrated into the space up! blue concept with a bank of solar panels built into the roof of the vehicle to allow the charge in the to be topped up at all times when light falls on them. The fuel cell meanwhile produces electric energy from compressed hydrogen, stored in secure tanks beneath the vehicle.

■ CLEVER CAR . . . VW's up! concepts are all environmentally sound and the space up! blue seen here continues this theme.

Running on purely battery power the space up! blue is capable of reaching 62mph in 13.7 seconds before reaching a top speed of 75mph.

Capable of carrying four adults in comfort and a total of 220 litres of luggage capacity the space up! blue's dimensions remain modest, creating an excellent city car.

The interior features a mix innovative materials. Many of the surfaces are constructed out of recycled materials - the instrument panel and the door mouldings are made out of organic plastics or biopolymers.

Great late-plate ford savings

THE EMG dealership in Ely has been established on the southern by-pass for more than two decades and it has become the first choice for motorists living in this beautiful part of Cambridgeshire when it comes to purchasing and servicing vehicles.

That relationship with their customers will continue regardless of the potential of the branch's future relocation to an alternative site in the town. Part of the flourishing EMG Motor Group which is based in the Eastern Counties, the Ely dealership recently launched a new operation in addition to offering a fine mix of used vehicles from a wide variety of manufacturers.

This new business is called www.fordsforless.com and judging by the way that sales are rising this relatively new niche venture has found much success. www.fordsforless.com offers great savings on late-plate (07) Fords where you can save as much as £5,000 or more from the new list price on the popular Ford Focus, £3,500 off the new list price of a Ford Galaxy and as much as £2,500 off the recommended new retail price of the cute compact Ford Ka. What's more, there are some truly spectacular deals on the astonishing new Ford Mondeo which is redefining the family

Ford even provides the stunning Focus CC Coupe Cabriolet and EMG's late-plate Ford offers are available on every single model.

EMG's friendly sales team has access to affordable and flexible finance packages that can be arranged around your personal budgetary needs.

As previously mentioned, EMG also offers a superb mix of used cars made by rival manufacturers and with around 70 on display at any one time there's bound to be something that catches your eye! What is more, being part of a large group does have its advantages as EMG's sales team have quick access to a mix of around 1,000

YOUTH SOCCER ROUND-UP

Brown and Root enjoy net profit

Cottenham u-11s 1 Ely Crusaders 5
TWO goals each from Luke Brown and Charlie Root and another from Ryan Dean gave Crusaders a comfortable win from a scrappy match. Ely took time to settle into their rhythm in a game spoiled by a biting wind, and they paid the price when Cottenham took the lead on five minutes. Crusaders' keeper Jamie Simper struggled to deal with a cross whipped in from the right and the ball dropped for a striker to ram home from close range as the defence looked on. But Ely were level within four minutes when Simper's free kick from the edge of his own penalty box found Mitchell Morse in the centre circle. He slipped the ball through Cottenham's square defence and Root ran through to calmly shoot low past the advancing keeper for 1-1. Two goals from Brown on 16 and 19 minutes put Ely in the driving seat. The first came after two Cottenham defenders collided as they tried to meet Fraser Crossman's clearance and the ball dropped to Brown who chose his spot. The Cottenham keeper was picking the ball out of the net moments later after Root collected a poor clearance and fed Brown who hit a vicious half-volley for 3-1. Man-of-the-match Dean made the game safe on the stroke of half-time. Morse linked with Dominic Hunt who squared to Dean and his left-foot effort bobbed over the diving keeper for 4-1. Any hopes of a Cottenham comeback were ended eight minutes into the second half when Root bagged his second goal with the best move of the game. Dean went on a weaving run down the left, beating two defenders before pulling the ball back in the box for Root to steer his shot home. Crusaders' defence of Fraser Crossman, Athi Ambi, Tejay O'Keefe and Aiden Merry looked solid throughout. But it took a smart save from stand-in keeper Conor Logan, who stood in for the injured Simper, to prevent Cottenham nicking a consolation goal at the end.

Ely Crusaders: Jamie Simper, Fraser Crossman, Athi Ambi, Tejay O'Keefe, Aiden Merry, Ryan Dean, Charlie Root, Dominic Hunt, Mitchell Morse, Luke Brown, Conor Logan, Tom Walker, Will Stephens, Liam Walker.

THE weather made this a difficult match for both spectators and players with the wind holding the ball up, making both teams use their passing skills. Ely opened the scoring with two great goals from Ryan Lowe, both of which were started from the back, with the midfield doing their job of feeding the front men. Cameron Robb hit the post and Luke Hayes the crossbar but the scored remained 2-0 at half time. A penalty, slotted home by the visitors, gave them a lifeline, but Ely continued to push forward and Hayes finally found the net from a Robb corner.

The visitors scored a second goal on the break, but Ely sealed the points thanks to another effort by Dan Twinn following a scramble in the box.

Quick-fire Barrett leads way in rout

Bluntisham Rangers u-12s 1
Haddenham Rovers 11

HADDENHAM hammered 11 goals to move up to third in the table. The deadlock was broken on 11 minutes with a slick move. From Kieran Drummond's long throw Alex Lowe's reverse pass was slotted through by Oliver Holden for Matthew Morton to lash home from 15 yards.

Holden then made it 2-0 with a precise finish from Theo Hall's through ball, Morton got his second with a deft lob over the advancing keeper and Lowe's drive from the edge of the box made it 4-0 at the break. Tyrell Barrett came on for the second half and immediately made the score 5-0, before Bluntisham scored a consolation goal. Barrett dribbled past three defenders to make it 6-1. James Beary latched on to Drummond's cross-shot to score from close range and Barrett completed a quickfire hat-trick with a rasping strike to move the visitors into an 8-1 lead. With Rovers now rampant, more goals were inevitable. John Falconer's shot deceived the keeper for the ninth, Jake Bartolozzi thumped in the 10th and Elliot Littlefield rifled into the top corner.

Haddenham: L Martin, J Snooks, C Treadgold, J Bartolozzi, T Hall, M. Morton, J Falconer, K Drummond, A Lowe, O Holden, J Beary, T Barrett, E Littlefield.

Coton Cosmos u-13s 5 Lt Downham 7
DOWNHAM'S Dylan Minar hit the bar after five minutes but he scored shortly afterwards with a penalty after he had been brought down in the box. It was then Coton's turn to hit the bar before Tom Bradney made it 2-0 with a shot high into the net.

Coton then pulled one back and had a second goal disallowed by a narrow offside decision. After half time there was a glut of goals. Firstly, Coton equalised and then took the lead. Almost immediately Eagles won a free-kick. Dan Mould punted it forward and Minar managed to get on the end of it to restore parity. A couple of minutes later Eagles were awarded another free kick which resulted in a goal. Jack Ure took this one and Harry Spencer shot home. Eagles then pushed for the goal to finish off the game, but were caught at the back when Coton's four attackers got the better of Eagles' two defenders to score to square it at 4-4. Man of the match Spencer then scored his second from close range and Bradney got his second from an acute angle. Coton, to their credit, did not give up and pulled one back before the final goal of the game was scored by Dan Burdin when he won the ball from his opposite number and took on three defenders before firing a glorious shot home from just outside the box.

Downham: Daniel Mould, James Turner, Courtney Pettifor, Thomas Horwood, Oliver Cowan, Jack Ure, Dan Burdin, Dylan Minar, Tom Bradney, Harry Spencer, Liam Ball.

Witchford u-11s 7 Willingham 1

JAMES Edwards opened the scoring for Witchford and Ben Goad added the second, before Willingham pulled one back. Daniel Collins showed steely determination following a corner to score his first goal of the season. Man-of-the-match Al Hewitt netted his first after the break. David Mayle made it five before Hewitt hit his second. Spencer Saberton finished the scoring for Witchford.

Waterbeach u-11s 1 Soham Town 4

SOHAM fought hard at the beginning of the match, denying Waterbeach any time on the ball, with man-of-the-match Jacob Balkuta strong at the back. Their pressure paid off when Conan Isaacson scored the first for Soham and Ross Davey stretched out his leg to finish well and pick up the visitors' second.

Waterbeach must have thought they had got back into the match but were denied by the underside of the bar. The move of the match saw Davey and Travis Isaacson exchange passes on the way to goal before finding Jordy Turpin, who struck home. Josef Chivers, denied by the post seconds before, deftly passed to Turpin, who duly scored his second. Waterbeach netted a late consolation.

Soham Town u-10s 6 Witchford A 2

A SLUGGISH start and poor finishing saw Witchford go four goals down inside 15 minutes. The team came out fighting in the second period and were on top for most of the half.

Witchford's first came from good work by Mathew Loades, chipping the ball over the Soham keeper. Witchford pulled a second goal back following good work from Nathan Francis and an excellent finish by Ruairidh Macdonald who placed the ball in the corner of the net. Witchford's man of the match was Loades.

Witchford: Ruairidh Macdonald, Matthew Loades, Nathan Francis, Harry Braybrooke, Daniel Scott, Euan Gilmour, Nathan Parker.

Soham Town u-15s 3 Eaton Socon 0

SOHAM maintained their top-of-the-league position with a convincing win. Ryan Brook opened the scoring in the first five minutes with a header after good work from Elliot Drewery and Dan Whitwell. Whitwell got himself on the scoresheet soon after, firing into the roof of the net from just inside the box. Drewery made it three when he pounced on a loose ball after some good play from Graham Carson. Soham came close once more when a long-range Simon Murfitt free kick cracked against the bar. In the second half, Soham continued to create chances but were unable to add to the score. Dan Sadler won the Soham man-of-the-match award for a strong performance at the back.

Witchford Colts u-8s 12 Soham 1

WITCHFORD'S good run continued with an emphatic home win. Once Jordan Emms had made the breakthrough in the first period, the goals came at regular intervals with Max Loker, Toby Rowsell and Henry Green all scoring two apiece. Emms got a second and Patrick Ryan also got on the scoresheet. Soham got a consolation goal at the start of the second period, but Jack Sheridan wrapped up the scoring with a fine solo effort as he completed his hat-trick and another good win for the Colts.

Witchford: Toby Rowsell, Henry Green, Jordan Emms, Patrick Ryan, Jack Sheridan, Max Loker, Jack Laud.

SPEEDWAY SPOTLIGHT

DANE Jan Graversen has agreed terms with Mildenhall and could sign as an asset in front of supporters at the club's Christmas party in a weeks' time.

The 20-year-old, who has spent a couple of years with Swedish club Karlstad and will come into the team on an assessed eight-point average, impressed the Fen Tigers management in an individual meeting at West Row last month, and the club immediately pursued his services.

Team manager Laurence Rogers said: "We have agreed terms with Jan, subject to any significant changes to the points limit at the BSPA conference in two weeks.

"He is very keen to come and we have a potential sponsor lined up who will help support his racing.

"Jan came to me on the recommendation of former Newport and Newcastle rider Christian Lund, and I thank him for that.

"He is very highly rated and Denmark's Jan Staechmann has told me he is worth pursuing as he has a great attitude and good equipment. He will start on a high average, but I firmly believe that he has the capabilities to achieve that."

Meanwhile, Rogers has hit back at comments by Plymouth team manager Mike Bowden, who claims that Tigers target Nicki Glanz is not ready for

Jan's the man for delighted Rogers

Premier League racing.

Rogers said: "I've always stated that should Nicki join us it would be in addition to carrying on racing in the Conference League.

"There is no pressure on him, he knows that we are interested in him and we are holding out the option for him to be involved with us in some way - either at reserve or our squad No 8 rider.

"Mike also states that he is owned by Newport, which is incorrect. I understand from speaking to Nicki's father Peter, he has not signed a full contract with them and remains a free agent."

Tom P Madsen has been informed that an operation on his injured hip is not necessary, while Kyle Legault has been slammed by parent club Sheffield for showing "a complete lack of respect" for not speaking with the club after handing in a transfer request.

■ GREAT DANE . . . Highly-rated Jan Graversen is due to sign for the Tigers.

Buckingham steals show

Ely Tigers u-9s v St Ives A CLOSELY contested triple-header ended with St Ives winning two and drawing one. St Ives took an early lead in a hard fought 2-2 draw but the Tigers were soon level when Matthew Buckingham scored the first of his three tries on the day. This was followed by his second, but St Ives got a deserved equaliser soon after. Buckingham made a last-ditch tackle to prevent an almost certain try from St Ives to keep the scores level. The second game was won by St Ives 2-0 while the third went down to the wire, with St Ives pipping Ely 3-2. Tries from Buckingham and Jake Butler were not enough to see off a very good St Ives team. Man of the match was ace Buckingham.

Calvert and Child shine

ELY netball side continued their winning streak when they defeated Jets 25-8.

On a cold morning, the match began with Ely pulling ahead to be just in front by the end of the first quarter. As the game moved into the second quarter, Ely steadily wore away at the Jets defence and gradually edged further ahead.

The Jets goal circle was superbly defended by goal keeper Sue Deas and goal defence Olivia Petherick, backed up by Georgina Barnes at wing defence. Ely managed to convert a number of Jets' centres, and with fantastic shooting they had a clear, but not safe, lead by the end of the first half. Ely began to dominate the game in the third quarter, with excellent attack by Donna Clark at centre and Paula Edwards at wing attack feeding perfectly timed and placed balls into the Ely circle. Katie Child and Jenny Calvert converted nearly every shot in the second half, so a jubilant Ely walked off the court at the end of the match with an impressive 33-goal margin of victory.

Great Scott makes mark

KING'S School Ely oarsmen Laurence Dugdale and James Scott both impressed at the first GB Early Identification Trials at Boston. Dugdale, who is still only 15, achieved the fastest time of the day, beating 156 J18s and 42 J16s. He completed the course half a minute clear of the next J16. Scott achieved the fourth fastest time of the day, putting him third in the J18s. Scott, from Burwell, has been invited to a National Talent Orientation Camp at Loughborough University in the New Year. The residential camp, from January 5-8, will bring together talented youngsters selected by the Olympic governing bodies for rowing, canoeing, sailing, triathlon and cycling. They will get the chance to hear motivational talks from Olympic athletes, and attend high performance sport and lifestyle workshops and cross-sport training.

Battling Smith's hat-trick delight

JESSE Smith made it three wins on the spin with victory over T Avenell at a show in Southend.

The up-and-coming Haddenham hitter beat the Harwich ABC boxer comfortably on a unanimous decision. Smith's straight punching was too much for Avenell to contend with throughout the entire contest.

Coach Mike Sawyer said: "Jesse boxed so well and he's improving so quickly.

"The other boy had won seven out of nine bouts, but Jesse out-boxed him." Meanwhile, several national junior champions will be in action at Haddenham's show at Arkenstall Village Centre on Saturday night.

Soham 0 Long Buckby 1

FA VASE, SECOND ROUND

IAN Benjamin described Soham's shock Vase exit to Long Buckby as "the worst result" of his time in charge of the Julius Martin Lane club. Rangers went down to the only goal of the game on 25 minutes, and despite Darren Jimson going close with a chip and Charles Libam having a header cleared off the line for the hosts in the second half, Soham never looked like going through. An upset Rangers boss Benjamin said: "Long Buckby deserved the win and I don't want to take anything away from that. "We went out as we have in cup games this season and didn't show up. It is the worst result since I've been at the club."

Soham bid to get back on track when they host Kirkley & Pakefield in the Ridgeons League, Premier Division on Saturday.

ELY got their revenge on Long Melford with a 2-1 win in the Ridgeons League, First Division after the Suffolk side cost them promotion last term by holding them to a draw on the last day. The Robins had the bulk of the chances, but went in front from a penalty – given for a foul on Robbie Mason. Mark Kirby stepped up to convert from 12 yards in the first half.

Ely should have killed off the game with 25 minutes to go when they were given another penalty, which resulted in Melford having a man sent off for a handball on the line. But this time, Kirby had his spot-kick saved, setting up a nervy finish to the game.

However, any chance of history repeating itself from last season was ended when Tom Beech bundled the ball over the line late on for Ely's second – although Melford were handed a goal when a shot from distance went in off Brady Stone for an own goal before the end. The Robins are now third in the table, just two points behind second and first-placed Downham and Tiptree.

City boss Dennis Lightning said: "It really should have been 14-1 to us, we had that many chances. And the longer we went on without getting the second goal, the more you thought back to last season, but we got there in the end. "The win puts us more or less where we hoped to be at this point in the season."

Ely are back in league action on Saturday when they welcome Thetford to the Unwin Ground for their third home match in a row.
